LAWN GRASS SEEDS

D. Rusconi's Fairmount Park Mixture Lawn Seed is very much to be preferred to any single grass, because the several varieties which compose it mature at different seasons of the year, thus giving a green sward in good color and condition during the hot weather, not losing its color, as the other unmixed varieties are apt to do.

SPRING FLOWERS

DAHLIAS

One of the best late summer and autumn flowering plants, now enjoy a wide popularity, as easy to grow as Nasturtiums. Planting of the dormant roots in the latitude of Cincinnati may be done at any time between April 25th and June 15th, the earlier planting being preferable. Plant the bulbs three inches below surface of the ground, laying the bulb on its side. Do not crowd your plants, but plant at a distance of two to three feet, and as soon as the shoots appear remove all but two or three of the strongest.

DOUBLE DAHLIAS

We offer the following varieties, which have been selected from a large list, to be the finest for planting in our latitude. Fine divided field-grown roots.

HARDY PERENNIALS

The old fashioned hardy gardens.

Perennials are plants essentially for their yield of flowers. With the right selection of classes and varieties, plants may be kept bright and cheery with blooms before first robin's song in spring till late killing frost.

Plants can be obtained early in spring as soon as the weather is permissible for digging. Any soil is satisfactory for their planting, so long as fertilizer is used.

The following varieties are the most popular known for their continuous blooming for cuts, as well for beauty in your garden.

Achillea Ptarmica (The Pearl)—Small white flowers, full double, borne freely through the whole season, 18 inches to 2 feet high.

Alyssum, (Rock Madworth)—Basket of gold used mostly for rock gardens, as they thrive and drive in poor soil.

Anchusa Italica—A perennial of great worth. It has gentian blue flowers in long sprays like the Larkspur. June and July.

Anthemis Tinctoria—Flowers yellow. Splendid for cut flowers.

Antirrhium (Snapdragon)—One of the best cut flowers giving a succession of blooms from June 1st to killing frost.

Aquilegia (Columbine)—Too well known to need much description.

Asters (Daisy or Starworts)—These are one of the finest for perennial garden, bloom freely throughout the summer months, colors light blue, purple, white and pink.

Baptisia Australis (False Indigo)—2-3 ft. Blooms in May and June. The attractive blue, pea-shaped flowers are borne on short spikes. Will stand partial shade.

Calliopsis—Flowers are rich golden yellow. Very free bloomer and fine for cutting.

Campanula (Bellflower)—A hardy garden is incomplete without a collection of these charming perennials.

Chrysanthemum Maximum (Shasta Daisy)—Blooms are typical white Daisy form but immense in size, measuring 3 to 5 inches in diameter.

Delphinium Hybrids—Colors shading from light to dark blue.

Delphinium Belladonna (Larkspur)—Color azure-blue, with each bloom marked with a white eye; flower spikes will average 2½ feet high.

Delphinium Bellamosa (another Hybrid Larkspur)—Dark Blue.

Delphinium Chinensis—Light blue with light markings.

Dianthus Barbatus (Sweet William)—Various colors. May and June.

Dicentra Spectabilis (Bleeding Heart)—Heart-shaped flowers, pink, marked with white, in long, drooping racemes; an old-fashioned favorite.

Digitalis (Foxglove)—Partial to a cool, somewhat shaded position. Attractive old garden favorite. Flowers in showy spikes.

Funkia Subcordata Grandiflora (Day Lily)—White flowers in August.

Gaillardia (Blanket Flower)—One of the most satisfactory plants. It flowers in great profusion nearly all summer long.

Gypsophila Paniculata (Baby's Breath)—Very fine foliage, small white flowers, valuable for cutting and to combine with larger flowers.

Hardy Candytuft—A low growing perennial used for rock gardens and edging around hardy bed.

Hibiscus (Mallow)—Hibiscus is best adapted for planting in a damp place.

Hollyhock—Too well known to need description. Single and double in all colors.

Iris—In varieties, German, Japanese and Siberian.

Lathyrus (Hardy Sweet Pea)—Pink and white. Blooms all summer.

La Vendula (Lavender)—Hardy perennial and very showy.

Liatris (Blazing Star)—Showy and attractive plant, producing their flowers from May to September, rosy-purple bloom.

Linum (Flax)—A fine plant for border or rockery, flowers light blue. Grow 2 feet and bloom early monthly all summer.

Lobelia (Cardinalis)—Very much adapted for border or edging, flowers light blue in clusters, with small light markings.

Lychnus (Hardy Verbena)—Attains height of two feet, with dark red flowers, from July to September.

Pachysandra—The only vine that will cover any space in one season, foliage glossy green.

Papaver Orientale (Oriental Poppy)—Pink and red.

Peonies—In large clumps named varieties and colors.

Large clumps named varieties, $1.00 each; $10.00 Doz.

2 to 3 eye clumps, in colors only, 35c each; $3.50 Doz.

Phlox (Hardy)—Known as the most satisfactory for perennial garden and the best bloomer. They will start their blooms when other perennials have finished, and continue until killing frost. In named varieties as listed below:

ANNIE COOK, Lilac Pink,
SHAMP ELYSSES, Rich Crimson,
GAFION, Peach Blossom,
THOR, Deep Salmon,
ATLAS, Fine Salmon,
EUROPA, Red Center and White,

RYNSTROM, Rose-Lilac Pink,
PHLOX SUBULATA, mostly adapted for rock gardens, shade white, pink and lavender, very attractive when in bloom.

Physostegia Virginiana (False Dragonhead)—Showy rose-pink flowers in June and July; plants grow from 2 to 3 feet high and are desirable for border plants.

Pinks (Hardy Gardens)—These old fashioned varieties are absolutely for design or border; bloom all summer till frost.

Platycodon Grandiflora (Chinese Bellflower)—A very handsome, hardy perennial with beautiful bell-shaped flowers.

Pyrethrum Roseum Hybridum (Chrysanthemum Coccineum)—Flowers resembling daisies and because of the long stems are valuable for cutting; colors white and rose-pink.

Salvia Azurea Grandiflora—Slender spikes of blue flowers; blooms in great abundance.

Sedum—These plants are mostly used for gardens and hedging, varieties are mostly showy foliage.

Shasta Daisy—Large showy white flowers, sometimes three inches in size.

Stokesia Cyanea (Stokes' Hardy Aster)—Very showy.

Sweet Williams—Single and double types, one of the best known perennials for cultivation, a free bloomer and very showy.

Tritoma Pfitzeri (Red Hot Poker)—The most curiously formed head of flowers in cultivation. Flamboyant is a very good description of the flower heads. July to October.

Veronica Spicata (Speedwell)—Flowers in June and July. Magnificent sprays of bright blue flowers.

ORNAMENTAL FLOWERING SHRUBS

Shrubs are as much a part of garden as lawn or flower border and a well arranged planting presents an attractive appearance throughout the year. Our shrubs are transplanted every two or three years and are furnished with plenty of fibrous roots and should not be compared to stock that is never moved from the cutting beds until sold. All these shrubs are very hardy and thrive vigorously in our climate.
